Information about public transport in Berlin

Berlin has a well-organized public transport. The city has a network system of urban railways (S-Bahn), underground lines (U-Bahn), busses and tramways (Tram) to reach every location.

Tickets for public Transport

The network system in Berlin is divided into 3 parts (tariff zones) - A, B or C - dependent from the distance to the city centre. You can see the tariff zone from the network map. For trips inside the city, you usually need an AB-ticket. You can buy tickets from the ticket office, the ticket machine or from the bus driver. Ticket machines are located at all train stations, underground stations, urban railway stations and inside the trams. The ticket machines take both cash and EC cards. Please do not forget to validate your ticket before starting your journey (not necessary for tickets from a bus driver or from a ticket machine in the tram).

The following tickets are available:

Single ticket – tariff zone AB	2.10 €
Single ticket – tariff zone BC	2.50 €
Single ticket – tariff zone ABC	2.80 €

A single ticket is valid for 2 hours. You may change the trains/busses. You can interrupt your travel within the two-hour validity.

4-Trip-ticket – tariff zone AB	8.00 €
Day ticket – tariff zone AB	6.10 €
Day ticket – tariff zone BC	6.30 €
Day ticket – tariff zone ABC	6.50 €

A day ticket can be used from the day of validation until 3 a.m. of the following day.

A special tourist ticket is also available. The City TourCard is valid for all public transport for 48 hours or 72 hours for one adult. It is additionally a discount card for approx. 50 tourist attractions. Please validate the ticket before the first trip.

City TourCard – 48 hours – tariff zone AB	15.50 €
City TourCard – 48 hours – tariff zone ABC	20.50 €
City TourCard – 72 hours – tariff zone AB	17.50 €
City TourCard – 72 hours – tariff zone ABC	23.00 €
